

STEAMER IS REPORTED LOST

With Harry Zimmerly of Wichita on Board.

WAS BOUND FOR ALASKA

Steamer Jennie Has Not Been Heard From Over a Month.

Mr. Harry Zimmerly of this city was on board the steamship Jennie, bound for Alaska, which was reported lost by the recent mail dispatches received at Seattle. The boat had not been heard of for 28 days before June 15, the day the Ohio left Nome for Seattle. The last time the Jennie was seen was by the steamer Elk, near Kaniak Island, Alaska.

The owners of the Jennie have heard nothing of the boat for more than a month and they cannot say whether the steamer was crushed in the ice or not and can give no information to the friends of the people on board.

Mrs. John Bryan is a brother of Mr. Zimmerly and as soon as the news came that there was considerable fear among the Pacific coast shippers that the Jennie was lost, her husband began telegraphing to the agents and owners of the boat to see what tidings could be had, but the owners replied that Mr. Bryan knew as much of the whereabouts of the ship as they did.

The ship was a comparatively new one, well built and one of the finest equipped steamers on the Pacific. In this fact the company is placing all of their hopes even in the face of the most distressing news from the returning ship.

Mr. Zimmerly has been in the Klondike region for nearly three years. He returned to this city last fall and visited his sisters and many friends in this city during the winter. He had been very fortunate in his mining ventures in Alaska and on his return to this territory was intending to launch some new ventures that gave much promise of success.

He left this city about two months ago for the west and intended to stay in the north about three years. His friends are anxiously awaiting some news either good or bad from the missing steamer and anxious to the fact vessel in which he was traveling, a good deal of hope is entertained for his safety.

ONE FROM SOUTH AFRICA

Interesting Young Men Enlist at the Local Station.

Three men were enlisted yesterday for the Philippines at the local recruiting station. One was a Wichita boy and one has just returned from South Africa and tells some very interesting facts of the enlistment of Americans in English ranks.

John H. Ferguson, 25 years old, enlisted for Philippine service in the infantry, having served before in the Philippines as a corporal in Company A, Forty-fourth Infantry, United States volunteers, while in the Philippines. He took part in the following engagements: Mayaguez, April 18, 1900; Davao, May 12, 1900; expedition to La Paz, April, 1900.

Mr. Ferguson is well educated and was on special duty as clerk in the quartermaster's department most of the time. He likes the islands. He has been going to a business college in this city. He is a native of Texas. He enlisted in this city for the Forty-fourth Infantry on September 7, 1899, and was discharged June 28, 1901.

Henry G. Andrews of Wichita, Kan., enlisted for infantry duty in the Philippines. He is a married man, 27 years old.

Mr. Andrews has many friends in this city, he being raised here.

James Wilkins, aged 21, Bremen, enlisted for infantry duty in the Philippines. His home is in Baton Rouge, La. Wilkins has just returned from South Africa, where he was a member of the British South Africa company.

He was 17 days on the water. He said about twenty of the men who went over with him enlisted in the English army. One of these men was a discharged corporal of the United States army. They enlisted for six months and were to receive 3 shillings a day. He said English officers came aboard and told them of the inducements in the English army and seemed very anxious to get all the Americans they could. Mr. Wilkins has traveled a good deal for his age and now intends to see the islands of the Pacific.

FOR BRIDGES AND FENCES
County Commissioners Use Kind of Paint That Defies Seas.

The Sedgewick county commissioners have purchased a barrel of paint which is manufactured especially for iron and metal work, and are now trying it on the north side of the court house. It is a black paint which retains its gloss and lasts for years. If it is a success a greater supply of it will be sold in and all county painting of this color will be done with this paint. The fence around the court house will be the first to be painted in it, and then will come some bridges of a rusty, dirty hue.

Commissioner Redfield said in reference to this:

"If this paint proves to be a success we will have the fence painted. It is a really dirty and ugly. The tips of the pickets were painted a golden color last year."

time, and now this yellow color has run down on to the rest of the fence. This new kind of paint is very fine for metal, it is claimed. It retains a gloss after it dries, and wears for a long time. This same kind of paint is used on the buoys afloat in the seas. As soon as it is tested there are bridges to be painted in Delano, Waco, Attila and Garden Plain townships.

WAS INTERNALLY INJURED

John Linder May Die From His Injuries.

Johnnie Linder, the five-year-old son of John Linder, who runs a hotel in the North End, was thrown out of a buggy by being run into by a fire wagon, about half-past eight last night. The boy and his father, in a phaeton, drove up in front of Dr. Judd's house, at 24 North Market street, and but a few feet from the station number 1, and the father was talking to the doctor when the fire department came out in response to an alarm from Pine street and St. Francis avenue. The horse Mr. Linder was driving became frightened and began to back up. One of the reins caught under the wheel of the shaft, and this pulled the horse's head around and cramped the buggy until the rear wheels were thrown out almost to the center of the street.

Horse wagon number 1, in charge of A. C. Getz, came out of the station and almost crossed the street before the horses could be turned. The driver did all in his power to swing the heavy truck to the east side of the street, but Mr. Linder's horse kept backing up. The horses and front wheel cleared the buggy all right, but the right rear wheel was struck, throwing the boy out. The buggy was raised up, and as it came down the little fellow dropped onto the hard pavement.

No blame can be attached to the driver of the horse wagon, as the bystanders stated that he did all in his power to get away from the buggy, but the team coming out from the station on the run required a large circle in which to turn, and Mr. Linder's horse kept backing out farther into the street.

The lad was picked up unconscious and carried to the porch of Dr. Judd's home, and Mrs. Judd, Neiman and Siegel attended him. No bones were broken, but he sustained a considerable laceration at the side of the head. The attending physician stated last night that he was injured internally, and the fall on his head may cause concussion of the brain. The lad is in a very serious condition, but the doctors stated that he would live, although he could give no definite decision until this morning.

He cuts heartily in the hottest weather here, Prickly Ash Bitters. It keeps his stomach, liver and bowels in perfect order.

DUST FROM MONT PELEE

Dr. Pardee Brought Some Home With Him.

Dr. Pardee who lately returned from a visit to the east brought with him a sample of the dust from Mont Pelee which was given him by a friend in New York city. The dust is very fine, of a yellowish gray color and a number of the grains sparkle like silver. The dust is something like the dust from a high grade whetstone when it becomes dry except it is gritty.

Dr. Pardee has only a little bit of the dust but he prices it very highly and will always keep it as a memento of the most appalling disaster of modern times. Mrs. E. B. Fryer is a cousin of Dr. Pardee and a Red Cross nurse and also one of the staff correspondents of the Christian Herald of New York City. A Miss Snyder, also a Red Cross nurse and connected with the Christian Herald, and it was through Miss Snyder that the doctor has the dust. One of the officers of the relief ship Dixie which was sent by the government to aid the sufferers of Martinique. When the relief expedition returned one of the officers presented Miss Snyder with a box of the dust and Miss Snyder gave Dr. Pardee a quantity of the dust to bring back to Kansas, and this is at present the only sample of dust in the state.

HEADQUARTERS ARE HERE

Prominent Grain and Elevator Man Moves to Wichita.

W. J. Stevens of the Stevens-Spott Grain company which has for some time been doing a big grain business in Oklahoma will make this city his future home. He has bought residence property on North Topeka avenue and he has opened an office in the Sedgewick block.

This will be the headquarters for Mr. Stevens and he will at once take his place among the leading grain men of this city. He has fifteen grain elevators in Oklahoma and southern Kansas and being so well prepared to handle grain it is only reasonable to suppose that he will do a large business. Every day the evidence is accumulating to prove that Wichita is coming to be the big grain center of the southwest as well as the great milling center.

FOUR NURSES TO GRADUATE

From the Wichita Training School Monday Evening.

TWO YEARS' WORK FINISHED

These Ladies are Competent to Take Charge of Any Case.

Monday evening in the Plymouth Congregational church four young ladies will receive their diplomas from the training school for nurses of the Wichita hospital. This is the sixth class that has completed the work of the school, and they are: Misses Anna Knudsen of Eureka, Bertha Ridgeway of Ridgeway, West Virginia, Virginia Mooney of Hot Springs, Arkansas, and Eva Evans of McConnellsville, Ohio.

The students spend two years in study and in practical hospital work. They receive four dollars per month and board and a room during the two years, and at the graduation exercises they receive, besides their diplomas, $100 in cash.

The program will begin at 8 o'clock with the invocation by Rev. C. S. Sargent, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church. Mrs. L. W. Chapin, president of the board of trustees of the hospital, will make an address, followed by "The Cuckoo Song" by Abt, sung by Mrs. Claud Stanley.

The principal address of the evening will be made by Rev. A. A. Parker, pastor of the St. Paul M. E. church, and Mrs. Stanley will sing Matthew's "May Day" song. Miss Wilma Peterson, superintendent of the training school and hospital, will then present the class to the board of directors of the hospital, who will deliver the diplomas to the class.

The hospital has enjoyed a very prosperous year and they contemplate a number of improvements in apparatus and arrangement which will make the Wichita hospital the finest hospital in the west and the training school will have the finest equipment of any school of its kind.

UNAFFECTED BY PRIOR ONES

Supreme Court Decides Subsequent Tax Deeds Paramount.

There has been many cases of quiet title in the district court of late and the number is not decreasing as the summer draws on. There has many points of law come up in each individual case and therefore each case must be settled on its own merits. After the bursting of the bubble and price of property went down to a very low level, many men and firms made it a practice to get tax titles on well situated property. Afterward they figured out that they had manipulated and that they were paying taxes on unoccupied property that would seemingly never increase in price and would lose big money on their investments. So they quit paying taxes. For years this run along the Wichita property company to pick up and then other parties took tax titles on this same land that was or had been held already under a tax title. Holder of tax title number two brings suit to quiet his title. Then holder of tax title number one shows up. When this case is settled in favor of holder number two, number one demands that he be paid what taxes he has paid out on the land. This is where the trouble lay, and it has caused a great deal of discussion among the real estate men, many taking the side that number two does have to pay number one the sum he has paid out.

The question has been settled by the supreme court of this state, in the case of Douglas versus Lowell et al. The decision, which is as follows, may be found in 8 Pacific reporter, page 108:

"The title to property subject to taxation conveyed by a tax deed is an original, not a dependent title, and is unaffected by any prior grant, lien, charge, assessment or incumbrance thereon. The effect of such deed is to extinguish and destroy all prior grants, liens, charges, assessments and incumbrances upon the property conveyed in exchange at the time of levying the taxes upon which the tax deed rests for its support, including all prior tax deeds and liens claimed for taxes paid on the property thereby conveyed."

Mr. E. D. Hutchinson, 104 North St. Francis, brought to the Eagle office last evening some specimens of moon flowers which he had cultivated. They are beautiful and must be seen to be appreciated.
